“The aim of life is to live, and to live means to be aware, joyously, drunkenly, serenely, divinely aware.” (Henry Miller)

Ana Dominique S. Deang

MINOR IN CULTURAL HERITAGE

Amidst the dullness of everyday life, Dom is definitely the breath of fresh air without whom my life would not be as technicolored as it is right now. From all-nighters to buffet dinner dates, every moment with her is just euphoric. Never has she failed to turn my worst days into momentous ones. Her existence exuberates everything that's good and pure in the world, and I thank God for having her in my life. No doubt that any guy would be lucky to have her. (J. Cabral)
