Nais kong magpasalamat sa paaralang nagturo sa akin na laging meron pa at pumili sa daan kung saan nagdudulot ng higit na pagmamahal sa higit na maraming tao. Ang pamantasang ito ang nagturo rin sa akin kung kailan hindi na dapat pilitin ang paghabol sa meron pa, at kung papaano ko hindi makaligtaan ang aking sarili sa pagmamahal nang buong-buo. Kung saan ako unang napalapit sa lubos na pagpapakatao, maraming salamat, Ateneo.

The single most important lesson I learned in my four years is that, sometimes, you don't have to go through things alone. Doubts are debilitating—all the more so when you're left to drown in them. I can't count the number of times when giving up seemed easier than pushing forward, but I know that each time it happened, pushing forward didn't seem like such a monumental task because there were people who told me, "We'll get through this together." I want to be able to give the same support, too.
