

Kyle Dominic G. Ta-Ay

Whether it was to craft an A paper or to party the night away, Kyle definitely knew how to make the most out of any moment. As he goes down from the hill and into the world, aspiring to be a diplomat, he graces a wider community with the person he has become in his four years in the Ateneo, the school proud to have produced such a promising alumnus. Kyle is Magis personified and the world is lucky to have him want to change it for the better.

Bonus vir semper tiro translates roughly into “a good man is always learning”. While I cannot claim to be always learning, or good for that matter, my stay in Ateneo has taught me to be more than just good, and to do more than just learn. It has taught me to be content with myself, and make the best I have with the cards I’m dealt with. I also thank this school for letting me be an admin of the Ageless Ateneo Memes, it surely was quite the treat.
