

Marie Therese Victoria P.
Dimalanta

For strengthening me in ways unimaginable, for introducing me to countless opportunities and people who continue to make an impact in my life, for allowing me to see the world and making me realize my duty to this country, for the “joys and tears,” and for becoming a beautiful childhood dream come true--thank you, Ateneo! I may be leaving the walls of your breathtaking campus but I will take you and the values and lessons I've learned from you wherever I go. AMDG.

Denielle Irene A. Dinsay

Denice's eyes are her most prominent feature, always searching for her next big adventure, and college has been one big stepping stone to her grandest ones yet: from InTACT to courtside, hers is a story of constantly becoming, exploring passions, and freedom. By virtue of God's faithfulness, few things are a match for Denice's courage in the face of adversity, though heading to bed any time after eight in the evening remains to be her greatest adversary. (K. Narciso)