

Alfonso Luis B. Villarosa

Didn't take any experiences for granted. Everybody has impacted my life. Either they stay and take part in your story, or they leave and remind you to improve. Zero days have gone by that I don't recall lessons learned from everyone. Nothing but love for those who help me get better. Unreal to think how far we've all come. The fact is, I still have a lot to improve on, yet I'm grateful for all these fantastic people present in my life. Salamat! (Read the first letter of every sentence. Got 'em)