“Don’t be afraid to be the dumbest person in the room. It means you have the greatest potential to learn.” I heard that from a YouTube personality, and I resonate with it very well.

Don’t be ashamed of your weaknesses. It’s there to remind you of how much you can still grow. Also, remember that everyone is fighting their own battles. Be kind; be considerate; be compassionate. There’s always room for everyone to come to an understanding.

Never stop growing. Be understanding. Keep learning.
