

Andrea Kristine L. Taguines

“Ships are safe in harbor, but that’s not what ships are for.” These are the words I’ve always tried to live by, but my stay in Ateneo also taught me the importance of not beating yourself up for every time you need to take a break. It doesn’t necessarily mean giving up or chickening out, it just means we aren’t ships. We’re humans.

Julianne Mary Lauren C.
Tan

“Everything will be so good so soon, just hang in there and don’t worry about it too much.”