

Lucian Y. Jimenez

MINOR IN STRATEGIC HUMAN RESOURCES MANAGEMENT

We all came here looking for something: how to slay our demons, how to know God, how to find ourselves. Over the years I asked about all this, made friends, met mentors, learned lessons. Some questions were answered, and the rest may not have any. But, once we go down the hill, what's important is we just ask, always going and always discovering. Hopefully whatever our vocation is, we can use it to give the world the love it never thought it deserved, above all the fame and fortune we may get.

Mary Rose Perpetua T.
Joaquin

MINOR IN FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Thank you, Ateneo, for all the memories, the laughs, the tears, and the sleepless nights. Here's to all the success, the failures, and cups of coffee. It was an unforgettable journey where I met my sweet and crazy friends, and life-changing professors, who made me who I am today. The road ahead of us is full of uncertainty, but I know one thing for sure. The one thing will keep me going, that will keep my fire aflame, is my commitment to make this world a better place.