The mindset has always been to go after the things that will help me grow and four years of reading, writing, shooting, editing, laughing, crying, worrying, binge-watching/eating/drinking, exploring, reflecting, and everything else this restless mind has gone through proves just as much.

Here I am after those four eventful years: the girl behind the camera™ working towards an eternity of beautiful, life-changing, and shookening moments to capture, experience, and constantly learn from.
