

Isabel Margarita C. Rivera

MINOR IN JAPANESE STUDIES

Mac has had a tough journey ever since I met her in first year, from academics, creative work, to org work, but I can say she's done her best in all things possible. Her determination to accommodate every aspect in her life has been abundant. You can never take her hard work and desire to grow away from her. According to Elbert Hubbard, "Growth is often a painful process". With this, I can say Mac has indeed grown from the first day I met her. Congratulations, Mac! Continue to grow! (V. Acosta)

Keith D. Rodriguez

MINOR IN KOREAN STUDIES

There are few moments in life that happen only once; these are moments that are unparalleled by the past, present and future, and meeting Keith is one of those moments. While the mention of her name alone can turn heads, there is more to Keith than meets the eye. Different people may see various sides of her, but she still remains Keith all the same: production queen, hockey enthusiast, K-Pop fan, amazing student, wonderful daughter, and one of the best friends anyone could ever ask for.
