

Jillian Maxine C. Quimson

MINOR IN EDUCATION, SPANISH

Jill is finally doobi doobi dap done with college. After payb years in the Ateneo, she learned a tawsan things that helped her grow. Through the joy and tears, through laughing at memes—this is the place where she belongs. Ateneo has contributed to her formation as a student, a Filipino, a believer, & a person. The best she can do is to be better, so she can serve the people—with them & for them. She wishes to pursue Forensics & to teach in Ateneo someday. Sí. Es difícil, pero vale la pena.

Maria Celina A. Quintos

meraki (may-rah-kee; Greek)

This is a word that modern Greeks often use to describe doing something with soul, creativity, or love—when you put “something of yourself” into what you’re doing, whatever it may be.

This is how Ateneo taught me to live my life. And it is how I will continue to live it even when I go down from the hill.
