

Maria Margarita B. Del Mundo

Thank you for the failures, second chances, crazy nights, life hacks, friendships, and my soulmate. Thank you for the good days, and the bad. Thank you for the tears, and all the smiles after.

MINOR IN CULTURAL HERITAGE

Here's to all the crazy all-nighters, stressful enlistment and exam preparations, writing papers in Walrus with a bottle of Pilsen in hand, professors who make you want to quit and work towards magis at the same time. Here's to clutching every major requirement from twenty-page papers in under five hours to this yearbook write up with nine minutes left before the cutoff. Thank You, and thank you, Ateneo.
