

Maria Isabella A. Rodriguez

When you first meet Bea, you'll know you've met someone special. Her infectious laughter and no-BS attitude will leave you wondering how so much personality can come from someone so small. She has wanted to be an Atenean since she was in grade school, and suffice it to say that she has achieved that goal. Graduation is only the start of an incredibly bright future in which this fun-loving and makulit lawyer-to-be will continue to pursue her dreams, conquer challenges, and change the world.

Giuseppe B. Romano

Through four years of studying for exams, cramming papers, and pulling all-nighters, the Ateneo has pushed me to do things I never thought I was capable of. Every year was a challenge, but each was also an opportunity to be a better version of myself. I struggled, but in the process, I became stronger, wiser, and more resilient. Thank you, my friends and family, for always being there. Thank you, Ateneo, for pushing me to go beyond my perceived limits and for pushing me to be better.