“”Look at the valedictorian
 Scared of the future while I hop in the DeLorean
 Scared to face the world, complacent career student
 Some people graduate, but be still stupid [sic]
 They tell you read this, eat this, don't look around
 Just peep this, preachers, teach us, Jesus
 Okay look up now, they done stole yo' streetness [sic]
 After all of that you received this.”
 (K. West, Good Morning)

I never imagined that I was ever lost, but it was here where I found a home and, more importantly, myself. Everything I've experienced, every person I've met, every failure and victory has made me the person I am today, and there are no words that can convey how thankful I am. Looking back, I can say with certainty that it was in Ateneo where I met the people with whom I spent the best years of my life. It's been an honor.
 “We tryna [sic] build a new Rome in one day.” (K. West)
