Four long years of pain, tears, heartaches, losses, victories, laughter, celebration—definitely not what I expected coming into college. I didn’t even expect to study in the Ateneo but here I am now. Here’s to all the professors, acquaintances, friends, lovers, failed relationships, all the people I’ve come across in one way or another, you’ve all helped in turning this shy, conservative, introverted nerd into an outspoken performer who wants nothing more than love and affection. Thank you.
