K-I-N-J-O (Just sing it in the tune of B-I-N-G-O and you'll get it.)

Kinjo is the type of person who can write 2,000 words in 2 hours but cannot finish a 500 character write-up in 3 months. He always carries an abnormally large umbrella and ends up forgetting it in classrooms. He reminds you of either a marshmallow or Michelin man but more than anything, Kinjo's the person you know has got your back unconditionally. With a smile as big as his heart, you know that he's got you when you need him.
