To grow fully into oneself, the key is to vigorously explore every possibility. That is to say, leave no stone unturned and no path untaken even if it means being vulnerable to failing. It's a painful thing to realize, but sometimes no matter how hard you work, you just won't get as far as you'd hope to. However, journeys shouldn't end that easily. There's something to find in the wake of it, and I'd like to think that it's a step closer to success—so long as you're willing to learn from it.

MINOR IN CHINESE STUDIES

Looking for the best friend in town has never been easier because Golda's here! She's like a happiness machine with her contagious smile and warmth towards everyone. She fusses over you when you're sad, laughs at your panicking when Waze stops working, brings you home even if you live on the other side of the city, and is down for anything and everything! There's definitely no need for California girls when you've got Golda's extra sizzles to Fine, Fresh, and Fierce! (B. Chua)
