MINOR IN JAPANESE STUDIES

On a typical school day I catch myself saying, “Gusto ko nang umuwi,” at least three times. Sometimes, I want to be as far away as possible from Ateneo, especially when things get difficult. Now that college is ending soon, I’ve come to realize that Ateneo, together with the people I’ve met, the places I’ve been, the lessons I’ve learned, and the experiences I went through during my entire stay, is also my home. I’ve grown and will continue to grow when I leave this home.

Para sa hinaharap: Parating tatandaan na laging mayroong mas higit pa kaysa sa sarili. Kapag nahihirapan na, kapag napapagod, at kapag tila gusto nang sumuko; bumalik lamang sa tanong na “para saan” at “para kanino.” Mula dito maaaring hugutin ang lakas upang magpatuloy. Patuloy na matuto, mula sa mga sariling karanasan at mula sa pakikisalamuha sa iba, at tiyak na matatagpuan ang sarili. Isapuso ang paghubog sa sarili bilang taong handang maglingkod para sa kapwa. Salamat sa lahat, Ateneo.
