“Kiss a lover,
Dance a measure,
Find your name
And buried treasure.
Face your life,
It’s pain,
It’s pleasure,
Leave no path untaken.”
(N. Gaiman, The Graveyard Book)

Hannah Therese Gana

Hannah is smart and ferocious. She’s the life, voice, and the confidence you need when you don’t even know you need it. Despite the times she had doubted herself, in the end, she conquered all her exams, orals, and those never-ending papers. She proved to herself, and to others as well, that she will never give up without a fight. Her journey towards this endless cycle of discovery, giving, & receiving will continue. With just her chin up and her back straight, she could do anything. (S. Garcia)
