

Mary Alexandra C. Copuyoc

Doubts and fears—these are the two things that have been with me from the start, threatening to consume me the moment I show any sign of weakness. Throughout my stay in Ateneo, I discovered that I was much stronger than I thought, and that I am way more than my doubts and fears. Since these two things have become a part of who I am, I have accepted that they will never completely leave. Despite this, I have learned to take risks and trust that, in the end, things always fall into place.
