MINOR IN DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT

“Ady is the kind of person people remember. She is headstrong, independent, and way beyond her years. Throughout the ups and downs, she always approaches everything with wisdom and compassion. Interestingly enough, she also constantly underestimates herself, but as far as I’ve known Ady, she never fails to leave an impact in everything that she does. I have no doubt that she will go places – literally and figuratively – as hers is definitely a presence that demands to be felt.” (H. Furigay)
