

Jonas T. Antioquia

May kasabihan na ang hindi marunong lumingon sa pinanggalingan...ay may stiff neck. Sa gayon, lilingunin ko ang mga natutunan ko sa Ateneo basta't wala akong stiff neck.

"Perhaps it will please us one day to remember these things." (Virgil)
 Four years, lots of wandering, still plenty lost.
 A list of things: my block, my friends, my professors, eyestrain into the sunrise, mountains written and read, anxiety in exhaled breaths, a spectrum of hair colors, a line of succulents (some dead), a lifetime in four months (with a list of its own).
 And from here: more lists, more things, more wandering - and maybe even more getting lost.
