“Good, better, best. Don’t let it rest. ‘Til your good is better and your better is best.”

Justin Paul G. Calubaquib

“When life gives you lemons, you make lemonade.”
During my Ateneo journey, I learned to be more creative in dealing with my lemons. It forced me to utilize all the different ingredients that I picked up in my Ateneo stay.
I realized that not all hardships in life can be approached with optimism. There will be times that you will have to embrace the stress, the fatigue, the despair, and just cry or shout all those emotions and trust the process to have a more fruitful outcome.
