It's all right to not know where you're going yet. If there's one thing Ateneo taught me, it's that we aren't alone. Rely on your family, your friends, and your teachers for support they're there for you. Life isn't meant to be rushed. Appreciate the little things and enjoy the ride.

To my dogs, W & C,
I learned that all the planning in the world won't help you unless you do whatever it is you can to make it happen—after all, the best way to predict the future is to create it. I always try to reinvent myself in the hopes of eventually becoming the best version of myself. It's a never-ending process that will leave you feeling more satisfied than anything. Remember, you are the only one who gets to determine what happens in your life. Live a life you can be proud of.
