Bea spent her 4 years in Ateneo as a recovering dancer. As would happen in the plot of a teen movie, some gnarly knee injuries ended Bea's dance career just as her college stay began, so she had to go on a journey to Find Herself™.

And because she could not dance with her feet, she learned that the brain, too, has its complex footwork; that the heart, too, must move to a beat; that love, too, makes you break a sweat, makes your body ache, but always, always makes you feel alive. (A. Agbayani)
