

Samuel Angelo L. Cruz

MINOR IN JAPANESE STUDIES

Back then, I never really thought of what I wanted to do. All I did was conform to please others. Ateneo led me to something I'd forever be grateful for—a ceaseless search for truth and meaning. From finding new passions to forming new relationships, much of my worldview has changed since. Finding myself in the midst of it all had been such an impossible task, but I realize that the endless process of finding myself in these experiences, with and through others, is the point.

Marianne Ysabel M. Cuison

Sa pagbabad ko sa Ateneo, aking napagtantong wala sa katapusan kundi nasa paulit-ulit at walang sawang paghahanap natin matatagpuan ang ating sarili, na ayos lamang na mawala at mapagod basta hindi susuko, na higit tayo sa mga kilos natin, na hindi mali ang pagsunod sa sarili basta hindi tayo nakukulong dito. Naintindihan ko ang tunay nating responsibilidad na mabuhay para sa iba at natutunan ko rin ang walang sawang pagtataya sa sarili at sa iba. Mahal kita, Ateneo. Maraming salamat.