"We must accept finite disappointment, but never lose infinite hope." (Martin Luther King, Jr.)

You live and learn, even if the crisis was self-inflicted, even if it happened how many times before already. Four years of Ateneo education. Four years of every situation imaginable. Four years of experience to learn from, and I still haven't learned all the lessons I need to. I'm not going to stop making mistakes and learning, but I'm going to have to make mistakes somewhere else now; and I'm going to miss the years when I learned in the company of the best friends and professors there are.
