What's my secret? I think it's a combination of getting lucky, having good friends and working hard. Whatever happens in life, I learned that having people to lean on makes all the difference. Don't go through hardships alone. In the end, all I can really say is, I made it baby!

"Believe you can and you're halfway there" is a quote by Theodore Roosevelt that I have always kept in mind. Ateneo was one big great adventure full of obstacles that I am now happy to say I have conquered. Ateneo taught me to be strong and most importantly, to believe in myself. Thank you, Ateneo. It was a great journey.
