

Martin Antonio S. Tiosejo

Tonito is a green and blue blooded student who will never fail to make you feel welcome and loved. His intelligent mind, talent in dancing and pure heart makes him shine like no other. As he goes down the hill, he will carry with him the experiences and the families he has created from Tugon Ateneo and Antioch Della Strada that helped him become the passionate and motivated person he is today. When you need a friend, he will be there for you no matter what! (B. Clemente)

Hanz Elmer D. Torres

We can never give or achieve our true best in our lifetime. Still, do not settle and strive to become better not just for ourselves but for others. Let failures be the moments of rest, but do not let it be the destination of the winding road of life. Keep following excellence and persevere. Death is what will mark our final best, but it is life that will give it meaning.