MINOR IN CHINESE STUDIES

He is charming, funny, and approachable at first glance, but he becomes much more than that once you see his true colors. More than these, he is a friend that is always a delight to be with, someone who can turn even the worst days into a very happy one with his witty jokes and optimistic attitude in life. His creativity brings color into every soul he meets. That's why, with him around, there is nothing that can stop any moment from being a memorable one.
