MINOR IN HUMANITARIAN ACTION

Wise man Pete Wentz once said, "You are what you love, not who loves you." And if my stay in Ateneo has taught me anything, it is that the choice to keep loving in a world that wants to break you is the most liberating and true one. To everyone, then, that I have loved, thank you for helping me find myself in the beautiful and the heart breaking. And to everyone that I have fought for, thank you for all the reasons to hope just a little bit more. You have helped me live with no regrets.
