To any other Atenean, Josh is the seemingly inconspicuous girl with a bottle of cucumber-infused water on one hand and a lunchbox of fruits on the other. To me, she is Waze personified— she whisks me away from my problems and leads me to where I need to be. For years, no homework so tear-jerking, no organization project so frustrating has stopped her from coming to my aid. Truly, Josh has changed me in ways that otherwise would render me unrecognizable today. (M. Doctor)
