

Rafael Enrico V. Paurom

Three courses and countless indecisions later, here I am, graduating on time! Kidding aside, this, I owe this to my parents who have worked day in and day out to get me to this point. If there's one thing I learned in college, it's that nothing is for certain. And perhaps, that's what makes life what it is. Here's to growth. Here's to change. Here's to authenticity. Here's to life after college!

Oscar Joseph A. Payawal

MINOR IN LITERATURE (ENGLISH)

"After a while, you learn to ignore the names people call you and just trust who you are." (Shrek The Third)