

Berenice Joanna G. Dela Cruz

MINOR IN DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT

Minutes into meeting her, one would feel intimidated. Beauty, wit, and charm are just a few among many things easily coveted of her, but she is not one to keep these to herself. Four years into being her friend, one would find himself blessed to have experienced her goodness. She has graciously shared much of herself with the Ateneo, and goes down from the hill this 2018 to share much more of herself with the world. (A. Pavia)

Shane Marie B. Demalata

She moved from Iloilo to Katipunan for college and went to Europe for her Junior Term Abroad. She travels the world frequently because she doesn't want to stay in one place. She's been to numerous countries and countless cities. Yet, she found a home in Ateneo.