

Therese Francesca A. Bonifacio

Four years, too short; six years, too long. Started with a 5-peat, ended with a comeback. From 7:30am morning classes and first semesters that began with June, to covered walkways and therapy dogs.

There is nothing more relieving yet daunting than leaving a home that has cultivated my perceptions on and in life. The home has changed but also remains the same - just like me.

Sayonara, Ateneo.

Segis Quintin R. Borja

Segis is someone you can rely on for just about anything. If it's school or if you just need someone to talk to, he always knows the right thing to say and how to say it. His demeanor is always the happy-go-lucky type, able to have a laugh regardless of the situation. One consistent aspect of Segis is the effort he puts into doing things, it shows through everything he has aspired to do in college: be it in academics, org work, or fencing, he's always pulled through. (R. Reyes & J. Sison)