

Joaquin Gabriel O. Papa

Came in thinking that I knew a lot; leaving fully aware that I know absolutely nothing. I'd like to take this opportunity to thank Uniqlo for my outfits, JSEC for my breaks, and SOM-BEL classes for my weekly exercise. I'll miss high-fiving fist bumps, sneaking past guards when I have no ID, and exchanging closed-mouth smiles with my acquaintances. Whoever started the saying that high school is the best four years of your life probably didn't go to Ateneo for college. No, really, he probably didn't.

Andrei Triz L. Patupat

MINOR IN DECISION SCIENCE

I often refer to myself as a child because I'm a small girl. Going through college, I realized that I'm just a tiny droplet in a bucket full of water, just one among many others who aspire to make a difference, a child among the crowd. But being a child also means being filled with wonder, hope, and excitement. Though I may not be where or who I imagined to be when I entered Ateneo back in 2014, I know that like a child, I will continue dreaming bigger, aiming higher, and working harder.