Not one or two, but not three na either. It took four years, but I finally made it! Ateneo, you broke me at times, but you built me back stronger than ever. I'm never going to forget all the shoes that got ruined because of the annoying tiles on RBR that splashed water on me when I step on it, nor the sound of the dreaded bell that I can hear even in my sleep. But especially, I'm never going to forget the Ateneans I met and the staff who strengthened me as well. TY ADMU! Eudaimonia, here I come.
