MINOR IN KOREAN STUDIES

"I am never one thing or the other. At night I am everything I fear, tears and sorrows, black windows and muffled screams. In the morning, I am all I ever want to be: rain and laughter, bare footprints and invisible seams, always without breath or definition. I claim every single dawn, for yesterday is simply what I was, and tomorrow even that will be gone." (S. Chin)

Voltaire Michael S. Lagasca

Charming his way around the ins-and-outs of college life, Mikey is a man with a plan. Able to balance studies with training, he exemplifies the life of a student-athlete. Embracing his ambition of becoming a successful doctor, he is diligent in working towards this goal. Beyond school, he is a reliable friend, brother, and son, knowing how to set aside time for what matters. Wherever life would take him, Mikey will stride its waves with a confident grin and a strong pair of arms. (J. Lagasca)
