MINOR IN PHILOSOPHY

"It's not a question of whether you will hurt, or of how much you will hurt; it's a question of what you will do, and how well you will do it, while pain has her wanton way with you." (D. J. Brown)

Phillip Clyde A. Manginsay

MINOR IN ECONOMICS

Even if the odds seem to be against your favor, never stop hoping. Do your duty until the business is finished. It's better to die fighting than to surrender yourself to your fate.
