Marwee is a Beautiful, Intelligent, Thoughtful, and Caring Human. (C. Hilomen)
The first time I met Marwee, she was a Marielle. Over the years, she's evolved from a Marielle, to a JJ, to a Marwee, then finally to a bestie boo. (P. Rivera)

College wasn't an easy journey for me. From Chemistry lab reports to an overloaded thesis year, the workload and stresses left me physically and emotionally drained. Despite these, I am happy that I've overcome the challenges Ateneo has thrown at me, not only because of my own efforts, but also because of the support of my family and friends who have accepted me for my weaknesses (and my height). It's okay to cry about failures for as long as you learn from them.
Smile, laugh, and celebrate!
