But now that it's all coming to an end, I realized my college life wouldn't have been the same without my friends. From despair to laughter and everything in between, you guys made the Ateneo experience all the more worthwhile. To the Asian Mafia, I'll miss you, guys, and as I always say, hang out soon!

Four years later and I'm marching for the last time. From hell weeks, all-nighters and clutch deadlines, to getting A's or that feeling of finishing a defense and just having fun with friends after, it is these little things that make every moment in college special. I found myself and met friends who have become family for life and for that I am thankful and blessed. As they say, every chapter must come to an end. But you know what? Mine is just about to begin. On to the next adventure!
